

Well that's a wrap!

I can't believe my first year as a school dog has come to an end. I've had a blast and loved every minute of it - especially ball chasing with Y6 at lunchtimes. Big woof out to Cameron and Josh who can throw really well, I'll miss you guys!

My other highlights of the year were:

The WHOLE sausage Miss Hayley gave me for my Christmas dinner (everyone loves Miss Hayley)

Getting my own well done stickers to give out (a choice of colours too - so cool!)

Seeing my friend Kymmie every Tuesday and hearing how well everyone is doing with their reading (and sharing a treat with her!)

Having my own photoshoot for the new look website

Helping a few children to overcome their fear of dogs.

Cheering up adults who have had a tricky day. I think that's my specialist subject!

I hope you've all got lots of lovely plans for the Summer. I'm having an awake-over with my best friend Flash while my pawrents go away for a weekend. SO excited! Later in the holiday I'm going to Devon to stay with Brodie. He lives by the sea and he's an expert when it comes to those scary waves. Hoomom says I need to be brave and the worst that can happen is I flearn. I'm not sure about that, those pesky waves keep moving; I'll let you know how I get on.

Good luck to everyone going to new schools. I will miss you all.
