

Chinyanta Nkonkomalimba

Due to a severe case of ill-timed writers block, this profile is brought to you courtesy of one of his children.

He's smart. He's kind. He's... Super Chinyanta.

Dad, governor and cybersecurity consultant by day and super hero by night. Super Chinyanta is here to save the day.

Strengths:

He's a great chef: his food will make you gasp and eat it all up

He's extremely clever: (not just 2+2)

He is amazing at computers: He can type at a smoking 40 words per minute

He is great with children: he has two of his own and he loves volunteering for school trips.

He loves babies: he loves cute babies with their chubby cheeks

He's good at clobbering: his weapon of choice is a foam medieval mace recently purchased from a nearby castle

Weaknesses:

He doesn't like crumpets (lkr!)

Tells terrible Dad jokes

His motto (and favourite saying by Jesus<sup>1</sup>):

John 21:12 - "Now come and have some breakfast" Jesus said...

<sup>1</sup> He's hoping Diana will show some good old Christian grace for "borrowing" this!
